Having used Epson "reset" utility once, with success on my XP 830, it allowed me a bit more printing time until it just stopped cold. Research found this site. My download from 2manuals was easy as was the entire process and my printer is working once again, no thanks to Epson. I removed the ink pad chamber and replaced the saturated pads with ...

The very first print out from the ET-16500 was visibly worse then the printer we were replacing it with and our old printer was >$200. We got support from the Epson support team and they advised us to run the Print Head Nozzle Check. Our Print Heads needed cleaning so I ran the cleaning program on the printer 3 times, as advised by the tech via email. After, we tried printing again and it was ...
